LADY FRIARS WIN TENTH CLASSIC

The Providence College Lady Friars displayed tremendous poise and discipline as they won three close games this weekend, to capture the Tenth Annual Concordia Classic Women's Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Providence edged McGill Martlets 71-69 in Thursday's opening round, upset the Bishop's Gaiters 70-69 and then downed the St. John's Express 62-49 in the championship contest.

St. John's advanced to the finals with more ease than their American counterparts. The New York City school bombed the U.N.B. Red Bloomers 102-56 on Thursday, then advanced to the finals with a 72-51 win over the host Concordia Stingers in the semi-finals.

Kathy Finn scored 22 points and Laurie St. Jean added 20 to spark the Lady Friars in the championship game. Kerry Pharye, Providence's point guard, was voted the Most Valuable Player while teammate Finn was selected to the All-Star team.

Bishop's Lynn Polson, Barbara Tucker of Southern Connecticut, Kelly Camp and Debbie Beckford of St. John's rounded out the All-Star team.

The loss was particularly disappointing for St. John's head coach, Don Perrelli. Perrelli's teams have finished second in all four tournaments they have played (twice with Southern Connecticut and twice with the Express) including a 67-66 loss last year at the hands of the Bishop's Gaiters.

Bishop's took third place with a 62-41 win over Concordia while Southern Connecticut captured consolation honours with a 64-60 overtime victory over Laurentian.
